

AGENT-X

FOCUS ON THE FAMILY MALAYSIA

July, 2025

CHRONOSCROLL, CODES, & CONNECTION

Parent's and their teenagers dart through the streets of Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, solving puzzles, cracking codes, and laughing harder than they have in months. They're not just on a scavenger hunt—they're on a mission to save the future.

It's 2055, and the ChronoScroll has fractured Malaysian society. Their job? Travel back to 2025 to stop the damage before it begins.

What starts as a thrilling challenge ends as something far more meaningful: restored trust, rekindled affection, and a renewed sense of connection between parent and teen.

This is AGENT-X, one of several creative “connection events” pioneered by Focus on the Family Malaysia and now offered across multiple Asia offices. It all began when our Asia Regional Director, WeeMin Lee, stepped outside his comfort zone to go camping with his son—an uncommon activity in Malaysia. The trip sparked such a profound connection that he launched a movement. Events like Date with Dad, Mom & Son Connection, and Parent-Teen Connection meet a deep need across Asia: restoring and strengthening family bonds in a region where emotional openness and relational repair don't come easily.

What's remarkable is how our Global offices lead with relationship in every aspect of their ministry. In places where proselytizing is restricted, trust with families, churches, and local partners is essential to reaching people with the hope of Christ. These connection events are not just clever—they're transformational.
